

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS & SCIENCES

Cordially invites you to the public release of its forthcoming report

*Restoring the Foundation:
The Vital Role of Research in Preserving the American Dream*

Tuesday, September 16, 2014
8:30 am

Top of the Hill

Reserve Officers Association
One Constitution Avenue, N.E.
Washington, D.C.

*How can we restore the United States' standing in science and engineering?
What is the link between scientific research and the American Dream, and how can both be strengthened to meet the challenges of the 21st century?*

Presenters

Norman R. Augustine

Cochair, Restoring the Foundation report;
Retired Chairman and CEO, Lockheed Martin Corporation;
former Under Secretary, United States Army

Hunter R. Rawlings III

President, Association of American Universities

Peter McPherson

President, Association of Public and Land-grant Universities

Neal F. Lane

Cochair, Restoring the Foundation report;
Malcolm Gillis University Professor, Rice University;
Senior Fellow in Science and Technology, Rice University's Baker Institute; former Director, National Science Foundation; former Director, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy

Hon. Bart Gordon

Member, American Academy Committee on
New Models for U.S. Science & Technology Policy; Partner, K&L Gates; former U.S. Representative for Tennessee; former Chairman, House Committee on Science and Technology

Please note: Your attendance is also welcome at a congressional briefing afterwards at the Capitol Visitor Center – Room: Senate Visitor Center 203–02, on First Street SE, in Washington DC. The Congressional briefing will begin at 10:30 am.

Refreshments and copies of the report will be provided at both events.

RSVP by Friday, September 12, 2014

Public release event at 8:30 am: <https://www.amacad.org/register/publicrelease>
(Continental breakfast will be served)

Congressional briefing at 10:30 am: <https://www.amacad.org/register/congressionalbriefing>
(Light refreshments will be served)

For questions, contact Rachel Johnson: 617-441-6124 or rjohnson@amacad.org

Founded in 1780 by John Adams, James Bowdoin, John Hancock, and other prominent individuals, the Academy is an independent policy research center and learned society. Its members, drawn from science, scholarship, business, public affairs, and the arts, conduct a varied program of projects and studies responsive to the needs and problems of society.
More information on the American Academy is available at www.amacad.org.

This briefing will be a widely attended event.